Volume Contents

Editorial 1

Nurses' attitudes toward computerised care plans in intensive care. Part 2 2
C. H. Lowry

A study into the uses and effects of do-not-resuscitate orders in the Intensive Care Units of two teaching hospitals 12
Susan H. Simpson

Maintaining the patency of transduced arterial and venous lines using 0.9% sodium chloride 23
Helen Leighton

Introducing a change of nursing model in a general Intensive Therapy Unit 26
Pamela Wilkinson

Does nurse turnover mean nurse wastage in Intensive Care Units? 32
Vanessa Gibson

Causal and emotional factors related to work stress in ICU nursing staff. The importance of accurate measurement 41
Joana Fornés Vives, Gloria Gallego Caminero, Magdalena Barceló Oliver, Magdalena Crespi Capó and Antonia Gutierrez Casado

Touch and visualisation to facilitate a therapeutic relationship in an intensive care unit – a personal experience 51
Louise Green

Ethical decision-making in intensive care: a nurse's perspective 58
Catherine L. Bertolini

Personal cost, caring and communication: an analysis of communication between relatives and intensive care nurses 64
Philip A. Scullion

Recovery units: the future of postoperative cardiac care 71
Debbie Massey and Glen Meggit

BACCN NEWS 75
NOTICES 79

Editorial 81

Coronary care unit patients' and nurses' ratings of intensity of ischaemic chest pain 83
David R. Thompson, Rosemary A. Webster and Terence W. Sutton

After intensive care – what then? 89
Christina Jones and Claire O'Donnell

Communication and socialisation (1): an exploratory study and explanation for nurse–patient communication in an ITU 93
Allison J. Leathart

Transplantation issues in the United Kingdom 105
Ruth Stewart

An interview study of nurses' assessment and priority of post surgical pain experience 107
Lis Boegeskov Nielsen, Ella I. B. Svantesson-Martinsson and Ingegerd L. Bergbom Engberg

Do nurses know when to summon emergency assistance? 115
Katharine Daffurn, Anna Lee, Kenneth M. Hillman, Gillian Frances Bishop and Adrian Bauman

Knowledge of immunology is essential to plan effective nursing for immunocompromised patients 121
Caroline S. Johnson

An update on the Mead model and nursing care plan 127
Bridget A. McClune and Karen L. Franklin

Elderly patients' experiences of pain and distress in intensive care: a grounded theory study 133
Marie Louise Hall-Lord, Gerry Larsson and Inger Boström

Communication and socialisation (2): perceptions of neophyte ITU nurses 142
Allison J. Leathart

BACCN NEWS 155
BOOK REVIEW 159
NOTICES 159

Editorial 163

Nutrition of critically ill people 165
Gerda Zainal

Effect of level of lung injury on HR, MAP and SaO_2 changes during suctioning 171
Mary Jo Grap, Connie Glass, Mary Corley, Susan Creekmore, Karen Mellott and Carol Howard

Transport systems for the critically ill: focuses for development 179
Caroline J. Hamilton

Understanding the pre-operative information needs of patients and their relatives in intensive care units 186
Jenny McGaughey and Sheila Harrisson

Ventricular septal defects. A case study and discussion 195
Susan Oliver

Meningococcal meningitis
Anne Bradford

2033

Hallucinations following cardiac surgery in a paediatric intensive care unit 209
Julie Hughes

Philosophy and models in critical care nursing 212
Liz Sutcliffe

A salutary lesson 222
Linda A. Carter

Nurses' attitudes to visiting in coronary care units 224
Karen Fairburn

BACCN NEWS 234
BOOK REVIEW 238
NOTICES 238
PRODUCT NEWS 241

Editorial 243

Problems following discharge after intensive care 244
Katherine Daffurn, Gillian F. Bishop, Kenneth M. Hillman and Adrian Bauman

Intestinal barrier failure and the development of the systemic inflammatory response syndrome 252
Carol Ball

Bereavement care: relationships between the intensive care unit and the general practitioner 257
Heather Peters and David Lewin

Learning from the experience of loss: people bereaved during intensive care 265
Brian Hall and Deborah A. Hall

Developing an information booklet to meet the needs of intensive care patients and relatives 271
Jenny McGaughey and Sheila Harrison

A right to die? 278
Lorraine C. Jones

Children visiting members of their family receiving treatment in ICUs: a literature review 289
Michael Johnstone

The care and rehabilitation of cardiac patients and their families: a report of a study tour of the USA 293
David R. Thompson

BACCN CONFERENCE 1994 ABSTRACTS 299
BACCN NEWS 307
BOOK REVIEWS 312
ACKNOWLEDGEMENT TO REFEREES 314
NOTICES 315
SUBJECT INDEX 316
AUTHOR INDEX 318